Assumption University's Academic Development
Academic Year 2011

Chairman of the University Council
President
President Emeritus
Faculty Members
Distinguished Guests and Graduates

It is my honor to present to you the report on Assumption University’s Academic Development during the Academic Year 2011.

The year 2011 had been fruitful as well as melancholic. Melancholic, because Thailand experienced the worst flood in decades disrupting businesses, normal lives and all levels of the education system of the country. The floods forced universities to reschedule semester dates as thousands of students were affected by the severe flooding.

Fruitful because despite the natural calamity that devastated the country, the University continued fulfilling its mission of providing quality education whatever the circumstances were. The University came up with measures to ensure that students did not lag behind in their studies by making available learning materials and lectures through the Learning Management System (LMS).

Despite the disruption of normal semestral procedures and processes, there was significant academic development in 2011 worth mentioning.

1. Curriculum Development

Curriculum updating has to take stock of the changes and challenges that emerge because of developments in various sectors of our country as well as on the international scenario. Newer technologies are impacting education. Thus, newer and challenging curriculums have to be initiated in order to keep pace with the new knowledge generation. In the Academic Year 2011, four new academic programs were offered, namely, Bachelor of Fine and Applied Arts Program in Visual Design, Bachelor of Fine and Applied Arts Program in Computer Generated Imagery, Master of Education Program in Teaching and Technology and Doctor of Philosophy Program in Teaching and Technology, to give students a wide choice of fields of study. Sixty-one programs were modified in compliance with the Thai Qualifications Framework for Higher Education and all programs were due to be completed by 2012.

The University is currently offering 87 programs comprising of 43 bachelor's degree programs, 30 master's degree programs and 14 doctoral degree programs.

The first batch of graduates in the following programs will receive their degrees in today's graduation ceremony:

- Bachelor of Arts Program in Chinese for Economy and Trade
- Master of Information Science Program in Software Engineering
- Master of Arts Program in Professional English Media Studies
- Master of Arts Program in Teaching Chinese as a Foreign Language
- Doctor of Philosophy Program in Counseling Psychology

2. Human Resources Development

Assumption University believes that the faculty and staff are as valuable an asset to the University as the students. Holding to this belief, the University has given support to the professional development of its faculty members and staff. In 2011, the University granted 12 scholarships: 5 in the Master's degree programs, 3 of which are in Thailand, and 2 are overseas programs, and 7 in the Doctoral degree programs, 4 of which are in Thailand and 3 are overseas programs.
Currently, there are 1,110 full-time faculty members performing either or both academic and administrative duties, 758 (68.29%) of whom are Thai nationals and 352 (31.71%) are foreigners representing 40 nationalities. One hundred and five (9.46%) faculty members are Bachelor’s Degree holders, 614 (55.32%) are Master's Degree holders and 391 (35.22%) are Doctoral Degree holders.

Seventy-nine faculty members, representing 7.12% of the total number of faculty members, hold academic titles. Five are Professors, 18 are Associate Professors and 56 are Assistant Professors.

3. Research Support and Development

Assumption University recognizes the importance of research for its future academic success and for raising the profile of the University nationally and internationally. The University fosters research endeavours and provides a wide range of services to support the University’s research community by providing them with information on funding opportunities and making funds available to faculty members and researchers. The University also supports faculty members who would like to present papers locally or abroad and provides assistance to those applying for academic titles. In addition, the University has awarded a number of faculty members who have excelled in research and have contributed immensely to the advancement of the University’s academic status.

In 2011, there were 61 presentation grants awarded to faculty members, 40 of which were overseas (grants) and 21 were local.

In addition, 5 research projects were granted the University Research Fund and 2 research projects were funded by the Thailand Research Fund.

Education is the most effective means to liberate Man from ignorance and poverty.

The fundamental aim of education is to develop and integrate Man's physical, intellectual, emotional and moral faculties to their fullest potential without extinguishing the creative spark in him. This integration proceeds through the proper exercise of personal freedom will ultimately lead to the formation of a complete Man, bearing in mind that Man's existence is an unending process of completion and learning.

A Man thus formed is capable of becoming responsible to himself and to the society in which he lives.

Address by the President of Assumption University of Thailand at the 40th Commencement Exercises
Queen Sirikit National Convention Center
Saturday, January 19, 2013

Chairman of the University Council,
President Emeritus,
Administrators,
Faculty and Staff Members,
Members of AU Alumni Association,
Parents, Family and Friends,
Honored Guests, and
Graduates, Class XL

It is my distinctive honor and privilege to chair, this 40th Commencement Exercises. First and foremost, I want to acknowledge the presence of Bro. Sirichai Fonseka, the Provincial Superior of Montfort Brothers of St. Gabriel, Province of Thailand. Moreover, he is also chairman of the University Council of AU. Bro. Prathip Martin Komolmas, the President Emeritus together with our administrators, faculty and staff, they are also here to witness the work of their hands in moulding the minds and hearts of the graduates to have the profile as envisioned in AU Vision 2000. I am grateful to each and everyone of them for the sacrifice, for the time and efforts they put up so that our graduates can grow and develop further to certain heights.

A major part of your achievement today came from your near and dear ones who had to work hard to pay your fees, who consistently gave you moral support, and who stood by you through thick and thin to take you by the hand when you stumbled and fell. They were ready to go the extra miles with you whenever you needed them.

The other components of your success today can be contributed to your peers, your friends who had shared their lives with you all along. Sometimes they bore your burden and dried your tears unknowingly.

I would like to thank them all for being present here today in their different capacities.
All of us are drawn here today, dear graduates, to witness your success in life. So, congratulations to all graduates Class of 2013. Life is a journey from your childhood to today’s graduation. And the next phase of life has already begun to open up and to roll on. You have the talent and the education to live your life the way you want.

We live in a world that is changing faster than ever. And to keep up, we all must change and grow. We can’t afford to fall behind the times. That means we all must be lifelong learners. And those of you graduating here today know that better than anyone. One thing you’ll discover is that what at first appear to be road blocks and setbacks are the very things that’ll get you where you were meant to be. It’s easy to get caught up in life’s routine. Challenge yourself to pursue the impossible.

Congratulations on achieving your goal of graduation from AU. Graduation is a significant milestone in your life and an outstanding accomplishment. Your studies and degree will help ensure that you are prepared for the tasks that will help you arrive at your destination. To face the future, I encourage you to use the knowledge you have gained at AU to make the world a better place, to carve out new challenges, and to reach out your goals.

At this important moment, I just want to bring to your attention one aspect that would be helpful to you later in life. My focus is on some of the virtues that are central to your life and keep a person in balance.

I observe that quite a number of AU alumni after graduation came back to our Suvarnabhumi Campus for picture taking before their wedding. One particular spot which attracts the eyes of the photographers is at “Sala Jaturatham” or “The Pavilion of the Four Virtues.” This imposing stone structure directly overlooks an island of trees in the big pond. Most, if not all, did not care to understand the virtues being inscribed on its upper part with the words “Prudence, Justice, Fortitude, and Temperance.” These were cardinal virtues of great kings and perfect men in ancient Greek and Roman times. It is intended to infuse into the students these qualities which would mould them to perfection if they practise them and make them a part of their lives. Anyhow, it would be appropriate for me to explain to you what these virtues are so that you can develop them to be a part of you.
What is a virtue, then?

Virtue: is from Latin and originally meant “strength” or “power.”

A virtue is a habitual and firm disposition to do good. It allows a person not only to perform good acts, but to give the best of himself. The virtues praised by the Greeks are known to all cultures. The English word “cardinal” comes from the Latin word “cardo,” which means “hinge.” All other virtues hinge upon these four virtues. The four cardinal virtues of Prudence, Justice, Fortitude and Temperance are interconnected. This means that if you do not possess one of them, all the others are spoiled, and so you do not possess virtue at all.

These four virtues are called ‘cardinal’ because they play a pivotal role and all other virtues are grouped around them.

May I proceed to briefly explain each virtue.

a) Prudence:

It is the most important of the four cardinal virtues. The most important part of prudence is knowledge. The short definition of prudence is recta ratio agibilium ….. right reason about things to be done. It is a practical knowledge to discern what is best for us to do and to choose the best way of achieving it.

b) Justice:

It is the virtue whereby we give to each person what is due to him, and we do this consistently, promptly and pleasurably. It perfects the will and safeguards the right of man: his right to life, freedom, honor, good name, sanctity of the home, and external possessions.

c) Fortitude:

It is synonymous with courage and bravery. It must be based on justice. The purpose of fortitude is to remove obstacles to justice. It is the willingness and readiness to risk one’s life for the sake of that which is just. It enables one to conquer fear in defense of a just cause. It is the moral virtue that ensures firmness in difficulties and constancy in the pursuit of good.
d) Temperance:

The virtue of temperance governs our appetites for pleasure. By nature we desire the pleasure that is suitable to us. Since man by definition is rational, the pleasures that are in accord with reason are suitable to man. Temperance does not restrain us from the pleasures that are reasonable, but from those that are contrary to our reason.

It governs the pleasures of the senses, and especially the sense of touch. It also concerns our emotions (to control our anger). It moderates the attraction of pleasures and provides balance in the use of created goods. It ensures that our will stays in control over our instincts and keeps our desires in check.

The cardinal virtues can be practiced by anyone. You have to work to develop and maintain these moral virtues. They represent the foundation of all moral virtues. They define our relations with ourselves and fellowmen. If we have these virtues, we are on the road to happiness.

Dear Graduates:

Campus life was an important time for you to think about yourself, to focus on your interest, to test your ideas and to explore the world. Most of the worries came only before the mid-term and final exams. The expectation came when grade sheets had been released. As you step into the world, you are now free to follow your own judgment. You have to get a job, to build a new family and your social life.
AU has been dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and, at the same time, devoted to the betterment of humanity. Faculty members taught you what kind of a person you ought to be. More importantly, they taught you to be gracious about being fair and generous. The institution shapes your values, whether intentionally or by default. Our intention about it and our aspirations are high. We strive to create a community with certain patterns of interactions among individuals who comprise it – patterns that teach us what we are to each other, and patterns that influence the way you live your lives when you leave here. You are about to leave AU community that takes such matters seriously and enter a society that does not. You should continue to take strength from what this community has taught you. In the midst of all the confusion, we have forgotten what a university is for. We would do well to remind ourselves that education, is one of relationships, of learning together what you cannot learn alone.

We look forward to watching you as you set forth on this new venture. We will follow-up on your performance, achievements as well as failures. Be AU good ambassadors wherever you may be. Do come back to your alma mater any time you wish. Once again, thank you all honored guests, and all who join us to celebrate AU’s 40th Commencement Exercises. And you, Graduates Class of 2013, congratulations to each and everyone of you. We feel so proud of you. You have made it to this day because you are great. Soar high and reach where you want to be.

May God bless you with lives of peace and prosperity.

Closing Prayer of Blessing

Lord, we celebrate this day with joy, satisfaction, and thanksgiving for your marvelous deeds and gracious gifts—for all the good you have given us.

When our goals seemed unattainable, you extended your hand and walked with us.

When we lacked understanding, you filled us with knowledge and wisdom. When we doubted ourselves, you filled us with hope. When we were confused and uncertain, you filled us with your love.

Today, Lord, as we prepare for a new chapter in our life’s story, we realize in a special way the frailty of human purpose and the power of human love.

We pray that you continue to walk with us and be an intimate part of our continuing story, as we bring your gifts to all your people.

Help us to hear the words you want us to hear.

Enable us to use our hearts and minds, talents and abilities to serve as you served.

Stay with us in our struggles to understand, in our moments of success and in our times of loss and failure.

Strengthen us to use our freedoms wisely, to make choices that are consistent with your ways and our AU values.

Bring the best in us to life and make our work your song.

Use our minds to seek truth; teach us to speak the truth clearly and boldly.

Use our lives to spread joy and to contribute to the building of your community on earth.

God of all, continue to shower us with your many kindnesses; grant peace to the world, and keep us in your eternal protection.

Amen.
