

ABSTRACT

I was a normal student who had chance to study at a high school abroad in India. I decided to go by myself because I wanted to improve my English skills, and also because India has a low cost of school fees. My school is an International Boarding School, where is in the north of India. I live there for 2 years. So, after I had experiences in the school, I think it is a good experience and interesting. There are many stories, which people from outside might not know about. Moreover, there are many people who are interested in going to study in India, they want to know but they cannot find deep information like this. Therefore, I have an inspiration about telling my story that happened inside school. The existing books in the market are so boring, full of documents, lack of design and are not interesting, so it cannot attract the target. Thus, I want to tell my experience by making an illustrated book. My objective for doing this project is that I want to suggest to people who want to study in India to understand more about living in India and know more deeply about life in the school. I try to make a book look more interesting and attract to target.

For this project, I decided to write my story in an easy way and draw picture to explain the situations that I have met just like it come from my memories. The concept will be " Student Experience in India". My book will be vivid color. The execution will be the girl character run the story and also in fun way. The content will be the story from the beginning such as preparation, first impression, life schedule, Indian food and more.

There were a lot of mistakes and faults through out the whole process. But in the end I am very satisfied with my project. I hope my project can give you ideas of what you are going to do in the future.
