

King Solomon

In the Old Testament, King Solomon, noted for his great wisdom, inherited the kingdom from his father, King David. He built a temple dedicated to God which transformed Jerusalem into an important centre during his time. The King Solomon Hall is a residence for male students. It has 505 rooms with an interior and facilities akin to a standard hotel, designed for quiet rest and study. Each room has a TV set; cable TV; direct-line telephone and a pair of line-ups for computer and Internet access. It faces the Queen of Sheba Hall.
