Thawip Witthaya Bridge

This bridge is the first threshold to the university compound, with the Cathedral of Learning as its landmark. Crossing over it, one sees a modern educational institution nestled in a beautiful landscape. A red Thai pavilion, embellished with mirrors and gilded ornaments, dominates the academic loop like a sparkling diamond atop a ring. It signifies Thai identity amid international aspects. This stone bridge with gravel paths on each side is the biggest bridge in the university. The four stone posts on either side are decorated with ¹ sculptured lion's heads symbolic of power, because knowledge is power.
