ABSTRACT

Preliminary Design Consulate Reinforcements System (PDCRS) is designed by using the knowledgeable systems analysis and systems designs in terms of issuing visa processes for the consulate work activities of the Embassy Organization. By using and developing some processes from manual to computerized system, to fulfill the use requirement and to be improved the existing system in terms of higher system. The developments are the on-line networking designed; communication transmitting from the local workplace to the related organization as Ministry of Interior and Department of Immigration.

By the system of this project; Preliminary Design Consulate Reinforcement System (PDCRS), can be developed to be available as used to be the database basically as example as the criminal database of the Ministry of Security, the population databases for the Department of Immigration, and also, some parts of prevention and protection on illegal events in each country by using this based designed.

Therefore, this project are scoped in terms of possibilities goals as to fulfill the user requirements under the cost and budget that can be controlled and get more benefits in the long term, which are both all tangible benefit and intangible benefit; as also, the importance of each organization administration.