

ABSTRACT

In most large firms, Information is both a major economic resource and a product. In addition to these major themes, This project is developed to aid the follow-up work and a major control of furniture manufacturing firm. The structured system analysis and design, altogether with application development are applied as a case study in developing of the Billing System for a furniture firm in this project.