

ABSTRACT

This System Development Project is written under the topic of The Inventory Management System of the Retail Bookshops. The main objective of the development is to create a new system that allow the company to have more opportunity to growth and expansion by the computerize system. The core system that concerns directly to the book business is the inventory management system. So, this project emphasize on designing the new system in order to improve the existing operation in the inventory control system of the company insteal of using manual system. This study covers the analysis and design of the computerized system to improve efficiency in performance of the management system and achieve the company's goal.

This project is not only design the new one but also design the executive information system that will useful as a decision supporting system for the management. And all the system have been produced for maximize the user and management requirement and for further development.