

Arts AU Shining Brightly in One Arts Undergraduate Symposium 2021

Ten teams of Arts AU students proudly presented their academic work and received practical and valuable feedback from the panels of experts in the One Arts Undergraduate Symposium 2021 held virtually in response to the COVID-19 pandemic on Wednesday, April 21, 2021.

Under the partnership with 6 other top-tier Arts schools from Chulalongkorn University, Thammasat University, Kasetsart University, Silpakorn University, Srinakharinwirot University and Chiang Mai University, the Symposium serves as a great platform for Arts undergraduates to showcase their research from as different areas as arts, literature, foreign language, and social sciences. Students from the Theodore Maria School of Arts accomplished their yet another great performance.

What a perfect platform to engage in student research and to hone both public speaking and presentation skills! So, big CONGRATULATIONS on the job well done.

INTRODUCTION

Euthanasia.com: Introduction of death decision, withholding treatment.

Under: consent, involuntary or consent from parents, physician-assisted where doctors prescribe medicine, the patient or the third person administers the medication to death.

The reason that we would like to work this topic:

- In order to use euthanasia in Thailand
- For patients with serious diseases
- For their parents can make the decision, keep on fighting or rest in peace with painless way to help them from the miserable conditions.

Therefore, we have chosen this topic for further studies and research from the AU students' perspective.

The slide has a light green background with a white stethoscope illustration on the left. The title "INTRODUCTION" is in large, bold, black letters. Below the title, there is text about euthanasia, including a definition and reasons for the topic. The text "You are viewing 33 Juthamanee Sathit's screen" and "View Options" are at the top.
